

Alan Dean Bradley

January 1, 1957 - May 29, 2026

Alan Dean Bradley, 69, of Riverside, California, passed away peacefully at Ronald Reagan Hospital in Los Angeles on May 29, 2026. He lived much of his early life in Zionsville, Indiana, where he attended Zionsville High School. Dean loved fishing in his bass boat and being anywhere on the water, especially at Eagle Creek Reservoir in Indianapolis. He loved spending time with his grandchildren-- teaching them to fish at the pond and going places with them, especially the Indiana Dunes. He loved traveling with his wife Diana Saltanovitz on road trips as well as a memorable vacation to Alaska. In 2019 Dean and Diana moved to California where he received his double lung transplant at UCLA.

Dean was serious and creative with his cooking. He always carefully considered his family's preferences for dinner, even if it was broccoli with ketchup for his three-year-old grandchild. He also baked delicious bread and his own pizza crust.

Dean was a kind, hard-working, sweet, loving, generous man who truly put other people first. He was active in his 12-Step Program and facilitated many 12-Step workshops in his home group community for many years. Dean was loved and appreciated for his unselfish work to help others.

Dean is survived by his wife Diana, their children Scott Bradley, Amber (Ransom) Donner, Katie (Tan Wu) Saltanovitz, Liz (Erin Edwards) Przybylski, and grandchildren Nevaeh, Kara, Cheyanne, Ares, Henry, Ramona, and Simon. He is also survived by his sisters Debbie Klepfer and Becky Copas.

There will be a Celebration of Life service at All Saints Episcopal Church at a later date, as well as a celebration of life gathering in the Indianapolis area also at a later date.
