“ Amadee Diamond, as I reminisce, I silently smile back at so many memories we shared here on cedars campus. Your favorite saying would be” make it happen!” You had everybody who came across your path chanting that phrase whenever they came across you. When we hung out for lunch you would break out your animated tin lunch pale that you were so fond of ( can’t think of the character) but those lunch breaks were filled with laughter, great conversation and oh sweat lol (because you would have us mobbing all over the place for lunch) your fave was the Indian food and Japanese food, you shared how much you loved your family even after a rant I knew it was coming ( how much you adored your family), we shared the frustrations on the job and every payday we’d take turns choosing the restaurant we’d eat at. Those lunch breaks made the day go by smoother. You, Antoinette and I would have a good time during lunch. Thanks for opening up and taking me in as friend. My condolences to your family I feel like I know them cause you spoke so highly of them often. RIP, fly high🕊️🕊️🕊️

He loved you and Ian and always told us that no matter what you and Ian are his family too! I'm glad you got to have a relationship with brother and him with you. He always appreciated that you would sit and talk to him and offer your help when he needed it.
