“ I first meet Ms. Schutz in her classroom when I was a Sophmore. The first thing she said was did you have a great day. It was great hearing that because of how down I was feeling because of home. I would always visit her after that to talk to her and get advice, when I needed help she would always be there to help me and guide me through the hard times and the good times that I had experience back in high school. She would always make these jokes that would make me laugh and introduce me to books that i Liked. She would always put a smile on her face like she didn't have a care in the world. She will always be in my memories. Rest in peace Ms. Schutz

“ I'm incredibly saddened by hearing this, I never had her as a teacher but she was he adviser for our after school club. She genuinely cared about her students and was an amazing teacher. She impacted my life greatly, and I visited her after I had graduated. She is the reason my brother didn't end up getting kicked out of school.

“ She was my teacher for three of my high school years and one of the main reasons I was able to graduate. She was one of the most selfless people I ever met, always willing to give a helping hand and last but not least, she was a wonderful person and she will dearly missed.

“ I recall trudging around the campus of Santiago High School with a mission to start a club, but I was turned down by every teacher I asked until I was directed to room H103. When I timidly opened the door to the classroom, I saw Ms. Schutz sitting behind her desk and she greeted me with a warm smile. I explained my situation and she seemed enthusiastic about the idea after pretending to have her feelings hurt by my claim to be "desperate" for a club adviser. We carried on a conversation about our shared interests and I began to look forward to every Thursday that a Gamer's Guild meeting was held, and the free time I could spare to visit her, because I would often sit at the back of the classroom and chat with her. When I felt lonely, she let me hang out in her classroom and I enjoyed learning so much about her, and she always encouraged me to pursue my dreams of becoming an artist. She was never my teacher but I looked up to her and hold so much respect for her, because it was clear that she was a loving, caring teacher that would stop at nothing to help her students. She had impacted the lives of many students, especially the ones from the Gamer's Guild because they were able to find friends and a sense of welcoming in that club, just like I had found a sense of welcoming in her presence. She will be forever loved and missed.
