“ Oh how to find the words. This pain is greater than anyone can imagine. My aunt, my mother, my best friend is gone! Death was a cruel deception that painfully took you away! I'm broken beyond repair. There was so much life to live & love to give. Conversations that weren't completed .The holidays won't be the same. I recall you would call way ahead of time & say Tamica Lynn I was blessed with a turkey by the ladies from church & you would ask who's all coming over .Are you would ask me to rub your back & I would say I'm done & you would say oh just a little bit longer .I needed to hear your voice one more time & to get that great hug you always gave & hear I love you. Please come back life will never be the same. I miss you. I love you, I need you...:0(:::
