“ Just learned from UCR Retirees Newsletter that Dick has passed away. Ever since I joined UCR in 1966, Dick had been not only a valuable part of my general physics lectures, but also a great consultant for me as a clueless first-time homeowner. It is a honor to be associated with Dick. He will always be in my fond memories.

“ There is a reason that Richard's generation was called the Great Generation.... because everything about him personified all that is best about Americans and humanity. It is easy to mouth platitudes about 'be kind to others' 'be faithful', but Dick truly lived those. He did 'put things back where you found it', he did 'fix it', he did embody faithfulness to routines and promises and values. All that he was is such a comfort... even as you are missing him so mightily. With love, Kathy Bocian
