“ I just saw on Facebook about Rusty's passing. Many of the class of 65 remain in the Beavercreek, Ohio area. I don't think any of us knew of his passing. I am so sorry for this great loss.

“ When I look at some of the photos my uncle took around the time I was 8 or 9, I'm amazed. He had an incredible eye. That must also be what drove him to spend hours behind the lens of a video camera when I was in my teens. Rusty was an incurable documenter, and though I hated it in my teens, I am grateful to him now for preserving moments here and there throughout our lives. We often speed through life, I know I do, without pausing to reflect or reminisce. The last time I visited him he gave us that gift, a few glimpses into life before my grandparents died. They were his best friends, and now he is with them in the great unknown, at peace, with no need to for photographs. Now it is we who must carry the torch of his and their memory.

“ Dear Alla and family We are so sorry for Rustys passing. It was wonderful to see you and him this spring. Rusty was a very special friend. He was bold brash and courageous, living life to the fullest. I so admire his last battle. He sent me a movie not long ago, just showing me around his house and Alla preparing a meal and I thank him for that memory. We were Cavalry Men together and when we go, it's to Fiddlers Green. Boots and Saddles.
