“ Bill & Jane have been my forever friends since 1971. I was a kid raising a kid and Bill and Jane kind of took my son and I as family. Always great homemade dinners. Some drunk driver hit my Volkswagen head on in 71 and I couldn't afford a new car. So, Bill bought my VW as a dune buggy or something...so I had a downpayment for another car. I worked with Jane for awhile. She was my inspiration. I had written a poem titled 'Words in Lines in Rhymes' Over 50 years later its in one of my books. Then - Christmas was always a major event at Bill & Janes home. One year when I was driving through town I just stopped by their house on my way to the beach. I was alone and really sad. They were getting ready for a Holiday party in about an hour. I had declined to stay but thanked them. Between my tears of chatting with them I kept telling Jane I loved her Christmas dress. Before I left she went in her bedroom and came out with another outfit on and gifted me her Christmas Dress. Telling me to always think of her and Bill when I wore it each year for Christmas. See pic below. Rest in peace Bill, Jane's heart is so broken and she misses you beyond words. I love and thank you both for the memories we shared.

“ He was my uncle and I was very fond of him. He loved Chevy El Caminos, and always wore cowboy boots. He had some great stories he'd share from time to time.
